BANQUET AT NEW YORK

Of the Democratic Club at Ten Dollars Per Plate.

PLENTY OF REFRESHMENTS.

One Thousand Jeffersonian Admirers Are Participants.

SPEECH OF MR. PERRY BELMONT

He Extols the Virtues of the Father of Democracy and Points Out the Influence of His Acts Upon the Present Times.

New York, April 13.—The long-heralded Jefferson day banquet of the Democratic club—the 10-dollar dinner—began a little before 7 p. m. in the Metropolitan Opera House.

Three thousand quarts of champagne was on hand, and 3,600 quarts of various light wines.

To serve the 1,000 diners, who occupied the floor of the opera house, 130 waiters were kept busy from the dozen serving stations. Sixty-one men had nothing to do from the beginning to the end of the feast except serve wine.

PERRY BELMONT.

There was a buffet luncheon for the occupants, and to attend to the wants of these 25 men were provided.

In the great kitchen constructed in the opera house carriage entrance, on Thirty-ninth streets, 40 cooks and two chefs toiled at the huge range and at long tables, where were prepared the ingredients of dishes.

The decorations of flowers, flags, curtains and electric lights were elaborate.

Augustus Van Wyck, the principal speaker, paid much attention to state affairs, dwelling at length on the canal scandals, and then going into national affairs, he will outline the policy that the Democrats of New York believe should be embodied in the next national platform.

Mr. Belmont spoke in part as follows:

Belmont's Speech.

It is fitting that this Democratic club celebrate the birthday of him whose monument is the Declaration of Independence—the first Democratic president, the constructor of the first Democratic platform, the founder of the Democratic party.

Thomas Jefferson, was a party man of the Democratic type. To him as a Democrat, the world is a debtor for that which was a novelty in political government until his own immortal words proclaimed the doctrine that the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is inalienable, and to secure it governments are instituted, "deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

As a lawyer, the Northwestern ordinance, framed by him, is his imperishable record. It has been, under the constitution, a source of the greatness and power and a chief peculiarity of the American Union. It was formulated in 1784, developed in 1787, greatly perfected after the Mexican war for the government of territories, theoretically, under the absolute control of congress, yet always in a condition of self-government, in order that they may fit themselves to become American states.

As a diplomatist and skillful politician the acquisition of Louisiana places him beyond all present rivalry. To his great achievement our country owes the vast domain west of the Mississippi, now the seat of 11 prosperous states. May our country always have such a president when the wise enlargement of the national domain becomes expedient or necessary!

A Democratic president, controlled by the teachings of Jefferson and traditions of his party, would today have a definite policy perfectly understood by the nation at large, but modern Republicanism is inopportunism—no one knows whether it is going. The opportunist often does what is most inexpedient. The present Republican policy is thrift and drift.

This is not the place, or time, to relate in detail the history of the negotiations by Jefferson with Napoleon.

Attempts to injure the title of Jefferson to the honor of the American part of that successful diplomacy have been failures. The plan was Jefferson's; the execution of the plan was his. While he battled the Federalists, endeavoring to push him into a war with France, he conciliated the Northwestern states, exasperated because deprived of an outlet to the gulf. His official instructions to Livingston and Monroe, his private letters to each, published not long ago, disclose one controlling head on the American side. Recent revelations also show that Jefferson exploited in a most effective way the hopes and fears which controlled the conduct of the First Consul.

It is not easy for history to separate the president of the United States from the credit or discredit of the chief acts of an administration. So it is with Jefferson and the Louisiana purchase; with Lincoln and the war of secession; with Grant and the Alabama treaty. So will it be with McKinley and the war with Spain. False or blame, for what was demanded at Paris will be his. If the president has the benefit of success, he should bear the burden of failure.

The recent treaty with Spain has been ratified. It is now a fixed fact in our law and our politics. It declares that "the civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants therein ceded to the United States shall be determined by the congress." The discretion and decision are legislative, and not executive. The president's war power, growing out of the war with Spain, is at an end. If he does not assemble congress to do what the treaty ordained, and the public welfare shall thereby suffer, the responsibility will be his.

Jefferson's first inaugural is our first Democratic platform. The fundamental principles therein set forth contain the essentials of Democracy.

In the second inaugural, making application of what had been previously said, were these significant utterances:

"I know that the acquisition of Louisiana has been disapproved by some from a candid apprehension that the enlargement of our territory would endanger its Union. But who can limit the extent to which the federative principle may operate effectively?"

What prescience and foresight that question implied! The "federative principle" looks to an indissoluble union of indestructible states. It repudiates and repels an empire of vassal colonies never to be states. Jefferson also emphasized again the duty of maintaining "that state of property, equal or unequal, which results to every man from his own industry, or that of his father." What a lesson of admonition is there against the fads of communism!

Equality of rights and duties were ever his theme. The Democratic party has no reason for existence if it does not always and unflinchingly strive for such equality of which the essence is freedom from restraints and burdens unequal because not imposed on every one under like conditions. That Democratic rule, fearlessly applied in each state, may solve the present problem of trusts and spoliation by unjustified taxation.

We all agree that the Democratic party should have for its corner stone the doctrine indicated by Jefferson. One was "The supremacy of the civil over the military authority," but that does not require a national Democratic convention to prescribe to congress the size of a standing army."

Another was "honest payment of our debts, sacred preservation of the public faith, encouragement of agriculture and commerce," but that does not compel a Democratic national convention to endeavor to prevent Democrats in any congressional district from expressing their preference regarding the details which will best enforce the doctrine.

We should take into account the exceptional popularity of his pacific and debt-paying policy among the voters who, at Jefferson's second election, gave him 15 out of 17 of the states, and all excepting 14 of the 170 electors.

It will be said that Jefferson was a man of peace. So was the Democracy he founded a party of peace, excepting when war becomes necessary, as it did a year ago. Then Democrats in congress and in the field upheld the flag of our country with their votes and with their lives.

Peace, small expenditures and low taxation were no doubt a passion with Jefferson, but his diplomatic notes as secretary of state, displaying the sword as a reluctant agent of peace, are a proud possession of his country because they brought out of darkness the rainbow of hope.

William J. Bryan will arrive in the city, and Saturday evening he will attend the $1 dinner of the Chicago Democrats at the Grand Central palace.

A BROOKLYN DETECTIVE KILLS A MAN WHILE CAROUSING WITH A WOMAN IN A SALOON.

New York, April 13.—Detective James Doyle of Brooklyn, shot and killed Martin Carey in Gustave Spohr's saloon, at Williamsburg, at 3 a. m. The bullet pierced the victim's heart. He also shot and seriously wounded August Miller, the ball going through his left hand. Another shot fired missed its intended victim.

The detective, in citizens' dress, had been in the saloon two hours drinking with a woman. When Spohr attempted to close the saloon Doyle refused to leave with his companion. An altercation ensued and Spohr, his wife and two men attempted to put Doyle out.

The latter retreated to a rear door, drew a pistol and cried: "Now, come, and I will kill one at a time. Carey advanced toward him, and as he did so Doyle fired. Officers found Doyle hidden in Spohr's apartments. He had thrown away the pistol and denied he had done any shooting.

San Francisco, April 13.—Steamer City of Rio de Janeiro which arrived brings news from Honolulu that at a meeting of the cabinet the contract with the Strymser company for a cable between San Francisco and Honolulu was cancelled. This action was taken on a letter from the secretary of state at Washington declining to consider the matter.

SYMPATHY EXPRESSED

By the German Government For Distressing Affair in Samoa.

SPEEDY ACTION IS URGED.

Great Britain Having Agreed to Unanimity Rule, the Joint Commission Can Probably Proceed to Islands at Once.

Berlin, April 13.—The United States embassy at noon gave the press correspondent here the following statement:

"We have received from the foreign office an account of the latest conflict in Samoa. The German government expressed sympathy and took occasion to urge the adoption of the unanimity rule in the findings of the Samoa commission, in order that the German commissioner, Baron Speck von Sternberg, might sail for Samoa at the earliest moment possible. The German government urged that only the early arrival of the commission will prevent further serious bloodshed. Baron Von Buelow informs the American ambassador that Great Britain has at last agreed to the unanimity rule, the United States also agreeing, and that the commission can probably proceed to the islands without delay."

The German press gives the news calmly and mostly without comment. The Cologne Gazette remarks: "We need not say that if the guilt of the manager of the German plantation is proven Germany will approve of his arrest and demand for his punishment. We will not defend the behavior of a German abroad merely because he is a German."

The Cologne Gazette also admits that Dr. Ruffel, the German president of the municipal council of Apia, "acted illegally in closing the chief justice's office, and says the other powers, we hope, will also admit the illegal acts of their representatives."

The Tageblatt calls the arrest of the German manager of the plantation in which the ambushade took place "illegally," saying: "Our consul is the only competent judge."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "Whatever action the German government takes, it will find itself backed up by the reichstag."

A number of leading papers, like the Deutsche Zeitung, Schlesische Zeitung and Hanover Courier, point out the necessity of a larger navy and urge the hastening of the present increase in its strength and the adoption of an additional bill for the construction of other vessels.

The reichstag interpellation on the subject of Samoa is signed by a majority of the Center, Reichspartei, Conservatives and National Liberals, and asks the government for information regarding the "events in Samoa, which have injured German interests so seriously," and also requests information regarding the measures taken, or intended to be taken, by the government under the circumstances.

Letter From W. H. Chambers.

Atlanta, April 13.—Mrs. M. C. Alexander of this city has received a letter from her brother, Hon. W. H. Chambers, chief justice of Samoa. The letter is dated March 21, and left Apia on March 24, the day after the installation of the king, in whose favor Chief Justice Chambers decided. Judge Chamber's letter tells of the attack on the native villages on March 21, and details the damage done, mentioning the capture at this time of 11 boats owned by the natives. He says the work will be kept up until all the towns of the leading chiefs have been visited, unless the rebels surrender. Judge Chambers favors the disarmament of the rebels, as well as the loyal natives.

Going to Samoa.

Vallejo, Cal., April 13.—Lieutenant James H. Hetherington of Mare Island and Ensign Schulze of the Iowa have been ordered detached from their present duties and ordered to take the steamer for Samoa on April 19, to report to Admiral Kautz for duty on the Philadelphia. They will fill vacancies caused by the death of Lieutenant Philip L. Lansdale and Ensign John P. Monaghan, who were killed at Samoa. Lieutenant Commander Hughes also goes to Samoa as executive officer of the Philadelphia.

Kautz's Action Approved.

Washington, April 13.—Admiral Kautz's actions in Samoa, as far as they are set forth in the official dispatches, are approved. He was instructed by the last mail steamer from Auckland to avoid needless collisions, but to protect property and life until the three treaty powers decided to deal with the situation. No further instructions have yet been sent to him, and if any go forward by cable within the next 24 hours, which is the limit of time available for the outgoing steamer to be caught at Auckland, they will be simply a repetition of former orders.

Negotiations In Progress.

London, April 13.—Answering a question in the house of commons on the subject of Samoa, the Rt. Hon. William St. John Broderick, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, said that negotiations were proceeding between the three powers, and therefore papers on the subject could not be presented to the house.

THE STATE

Seeks to Have Attorney Werntz Reveal Secrets of Mrs. George.

Canton, O., April 13.—The cross-examination of William F. Cook was resumed. Nothing important developed. Attorney Lorin C. Wise testified to seeing Mrs. George get on a car on which he was riding the evening of the tragedy, and to seeing her leave the car at Haslett avenue at 5 p. m. He also described the topography of that section of the city, and the routes from it to the city, with particular reference to the streets over which it is claimed the assassin passed.

W. O. Werntz, an attorney for Mrs. George in a number of cases before the tragedy, was called to testify as to what Mrs. George said to him of her alleged contemplated crime on the Monday before the tragedy. He claimed the privilege of confidence between counsel and client. The defendant made the same claim and had the witness relate cases in which he was concerned. The state claimed there could be no confidential relations on a contemplated crime, and a controversy followed. It was sought by the state to show by this witness that Mrs. George detailed to him plans for the murder, and asked him as to how they would do.

Judge Taylor at the opening of court announced his decision which admits Attorney Werntz's conversation with Mrs. George before the tragedy. His ruling was in effect that counsel cannot be employed in relation to the commission of crime and without such professional employment there can be no professional confidence.

Suicide of Edward Nauck.

Felicity, O., April 13.—The body of Edward Nauck has been found lying behind an outhouse not far from where the altercation occurred in which he shot and wounded his brother-in-law, Albert Cox. They were angered about the use of a horse and Nauck finally shot Cox. It appears he went to this outhouse, and shot himself, as the revolver was still in his hand. Cox's wounds are probably fatal.

Mayor Swartz and Cabinet.

Columbus, O., April 13.—Samuel J. Swartz was inaugurated mayor of Columbus, the ceremony taking place at the city hall. Mayor Swartz's cabinet is said to be: Director of public safety, Joseph Dusenbury; director of public improvements, Fred W. Herbst; director of accounts, Lawrence Cott; director of law, David F. Pugh. It is stated that all of his advisers are of the Bushnell-Kurtz faction.

New Incorporations.

Marble Near Ironton.

Ironton, O., April 13.—Marble has been discovered in lands of McGugin & Company at Olive furnace. There are two veins, one four feet and the other two feet. The marble has been analyzed, and will bring in the markets 90 cents a cubic foot delivered.

To Resubmit the Case.

New York, April 13.—Assistant District Attorney James W. Osborne, when informed of the grounds given by Judge Williams for his decision in the Molineux case, said: "This decision is really in our favor. Judge Williams directs us to resubmit the case to the grand jury. This is virtually only an extra precaution that he holds should be taken. We shall lose no time in presenting the case again to the grand jury. Molineux will not be discharged. The court's decision virtually directs us to hold him until the grand jury acts again."

Boston Museum Scorched.

Boston, April 13.—The Boston museum, the oldest playhouse here, was badly damaged by fire. The blaze started on the Tremont street side, and is thought to have been caused by a careless smoker. The loss to the museum is estimated at about $30,000, while several firms that occupy stores on the ground floor sustained damage by water.

Crossville, Tenn., April 13.—Hiram Hall, who was sentenced to death for murdering his young wife by pushing her into a well, was hanged.

STRIPPED OF THE GUNS

Gunboats Purchased From Spain In Philippines Seized.

WERE BOARDED BY REBELS.

Instead of Waiting For an Escort the Fleet Left Zamboanga and Soon Returned With Their Armaments Removed.

Manilla, April 13.—Francisco Reyes, the man who recently purchased the Spanish gunboats at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, has received advices to the effect that the fleet sailed for Manilla and returned a few days later with the vessels stripped of their guns and ammunition. The purchaser's agents and native crews for the vessels, on board the American steamer Butuan, were conveyed to Zamboanga by the United States cruiser Boston, and were instructed to await for the arrival there of the United States gunboat Petrel. Instead of going after the Boston sailed from Zamboanga, the Spaniards transferred the gunboats to the agents of Senor Reyes, and the fleet left Zamboanga unescorted. They soon returned and reported having been boarded by rebels, who removed the gunboats' armaments. If the instructions of the American naval commander had been obeyed, their capture would have been impossible.

Spanish Sympathizers Suspected.

Washington, April 13.—The war department officials take a philosophical view of the reported capture by the insurgents in the vicinity of Zamboanga of the arms and ammunition on the Spanish gunboat, which were to become the property of the United States. They say that General Otis has withheld payment for any of these boats until they were delivered to him at Manilla. It is regretted that the insurgents should possess the guns, but it is said they will not be able to secure and keep on hand a supply of ammunition for them. The United States forces have so far had no trouble with the insurgents on the island of Mindanao and in view of the suspicious circumstances attending the capture of these guns, it is apprehended that some persons, possibly Spanish sympathizers with Aguinaldo, have caused the guns to be sent to him.

Two Privates Killed.

Manilla, April 13.—At about 4 a. m. a small body of rebels attacked the camp of the Third artillery from the swamp near Paomban, a mile and a half west of Malolos. Two privates were killed, and a lieutenant and two others were wounded. At daylight the American forces scoured the district, driving the rebels northward and killing several of them. A private soldier of Montana regiment was wounded.

Funeral of Justice Field.

Washington, April 13.—Impressive funeral services were held over the remains of the late Justice Stephen G. Field at the Church of the Epiphany. The church was crowded with a distinguished company gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the memory of the great jurist. Among those present were President McKinley, Secretaries Wilson and Long, and Attorney General Griggs, the British, Russian and German ambassadors, the Chinese minister and the diplomatic representatives of other foreign countries.

Dates of Confederates Reunion.

Charleston, S. C., April 13.—The great reunion of ex-Confederates will be celebrated from May 10 to 13. Among the speakers who have promised to be present are General B. Gordon and General Joseph Wheeler. The news from Washington that the latter will probably be ordered to the Philippines is received with much regret and it is hoped his departure will be delayed long enough to permit of his addressing his comrades.

Cotter Sentenced.

Wilmington, Del., April 13.—In the United States district court William E. Eastman Cotter of Philadelphia, convicted of conspiring to aid and abet William N. Boggs in the latter's theft of $107,000 from the First National bank of Dover, of which Boggs was paying teller, was sentenced by Judge Bradford to pay a fine of $5,000 and be imprisoned for 18 months.

New Ritual Adopted.

Chicago, April 13.—At the annual conference of ministers of the Swedish Episcopal church of the United States, which begun here, a new ritual for Sunday schools was adopted.

T. D. SLATTERY,
 Chairman, Dem. Ex. Com. for M. C.
 Stanley Watson, Secretary.

Ono as usual is demonstrating her hogzish characteristics. Senator Foraker has just secured from the Navy Department as a trophy for Cincinnati one of the cannon from the Spanish cruiser Almirante Oquendo. He also secured for Hillsboro, his birthplace, one of the old bronze cannons that was mounted on Morro Castle, Cleveland, the home of Senator Hanna and Representative Burton, has a cannon as a trophy, also Canton, President McKinley's home, and Akron, the home of Colonel Chas. Dick. So far as we know, Kentucky has not been able to secure a single one of these trophies. Maysville put in an application some time ago for one of them, but it was turned down, with the statement the supply was exhausted. And yet Senator Foraker this week secures one for Cincinnati.

The Court of Appeals Thursday affirmed in part and reversed in part the case of Thos. Judd's administrator vs. the C. and O. railway, of Boyd County. Judd was killed in 1892 while riding on the pilot of his engine trying to make a coupling. He was a conductor on the Big Sandy branch of the C. and O. The case was transferred from the Federal to the Circuit Court and several trials had. A $10,000 verdict in favor of Mrs. Jenny Judd, the widow, was set aside, and on retrial $13,500 compensatory and $5,000 punitive damages was allowed. This court affirms the $13,500 compensatory and reverses as to the $5,000 punitive damages.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

ANTI-TRUST LAW.

A Kentucky Statute Against the Combines.
 It Was Passed in 1890 and Fully Covers the Case.

The Louisville Dispatch has discovered a Kentucky statute that is about as strict an anti-trust law as has yet been passed, and covers the ground about as thoroughly, although it was enacted in 1890 long before the combines cut much of a figure. As will be seen, the law provides severe penalties. The act is as follows:

Sec. 3915.—That if any corporation under the laws of Kentucky or under the laws of any other State or country, for transacting or conducting any kind of business in this State, or any partnership, company, firm or individual, or other association of persons, shall create, establish, organize or enter into, or become a member of, or a party to, or in any way interested in any pool, trust, combine, agreement, confederation, partnership, individual or person or association of persons, for the purpose of regulating or controlling or fixing the price of any merchandise, manufactured articles or property of any kind, or shall enter into, become a member of or party to, or in any way interested in any pool, agreement, contract, understanding, combination or confederation having for its object the fixing or in any way limiting the amount or quantity of any article of property, commodity or merchandise to be manufactured or produced, mined, bought or sold, shall be deemed guilty of the crime of conspiracy, and punished therefor as provided in the subsequent section of this act.

Sec. 3916.—It shall not be lawful for any corporation to issue or to own, have or sell any trust certificates or stocks, or for any corporation's agent, officer or employee, agent or director, or any corporation to enter into, either verbally or in writing, any combinations, contracts, agreement or understanding with any person or persons, corporation or corporations, or with any director, agent or officer thereof, the purpose or effect of which combination, contract, agreement or understanding would be to place the management, control or any part of the business of such combination or association, or the manufactured product thereof, in the hands, or under the control, in whole or in part, of trustee or trustees, or agents, or any person whatever, with the intent, or to have the effect to limit, fix, establish or change the price of the production or sale of any article of property or of commerce, or to prevent, restrict or in any way diminish the manufacture or output of any such article or property.

Sec. 3917.—If any corporation, company, firm, partnership, or person, or association of persons, shall by court of competent jurisdiction be found guilty of any violation of any of the provisions of this act such guilty party shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, and not more than five thousand dollars.

Any president, manager, director or other officer or agent, or receiver of any corporation, company, firm, partnership or other association, or any individual found by a court of competent jurisdiction guilty of any violation of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $500, nor more than $5,000, or may be imprisoned in the county jail not less than ten months, nor more than twelve months, or may be both so fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court or jury trying the case.

Sec. 3918.—Any contract or agreement, or understanding, in violation of the preceding sections of this act shall be null and void.

And any purchasers of property or articles, or of any commodity from any individual, firm, company or corporation shall not be liable for the price or payment of such article, or commodity, and may plead and rely on this act as a complete defense to any suit for such price or payment.

Sec. 3919.—If any corporation created or organized under the laws of this State shall be indicted and convicted for any violation of any of the provisions of this act, such indictment, trial and conviction shall have the effect to forfeit the charter of said corporation, without any further proceedings on the subject of the forfeiture of its charter; but any corporation whose charter is so forfeited shall have the right of appeal, as is provided in other cases, and the filing of bond as is required by law shall suspend the judgment of forfeiture until the same is passed upon by the court to which the case is appealed.

Sec. 3920.—It shall be the duty of the Circuit Judges, and other Judges of similar jurisdiction in this State, to give the provisions of this act in charge to the grand juries at each term of their courts.

FINE ATHLETIC AND MUSICAL PROGRAM.

MISS MARTHA M. HENRY.

The entertainment at the opera house to-night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will prove a thoroughly enjoyable one, and, as the admission is only 15, 25 and 35 cents, the house should be packed, especially since the entertainment is for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. You can spend a pleasant evening at small cost and at same time assist this worthy and excellent association.

The champion athletes of Ohio and Kentucky will give an up-to-date exhibition in their line. The program will be interspersed with gymnastic and dexter work by the pupils of Hayswood and with selections by Miss Cora Mae

Henry, violinist, and Miss Martha M. Henry, mezzo soprano.

New York Musical Courier: "The most noteworthy feature of the recital was the remarkable violin playing. Miss Cora Mae Henry played the Fantasia Appassionata by Vieuxtemps. She displayed a technique and temperament which augur for her an enviable future. Delicacy, refinement and a noble musical tone are already discerned in her execution."

Commercial Tribune: "Miss Martha M. Henry gave a very fine rendition of Beethoven's 'Ah Perfido,' imparting to it a high degree of dramatic force. The young lady has a beautiful and sympathetic voice of fine quality and large volume. Her expression is musical and intelligent, her enunciation remarkably good. Miss Henry fully deserved the enthusiastic applause which the audience so liberally bestowed upon her."

TWO CONVENTIONS TO-MORROW.

Mason County Republicans and Democrats Will Meet to Select Delegates to Railroad District Convention.

The Republicans of Mason County will meet at the court house to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock to select delegates to attend the convention to be held at Richmond, May 2nd, to nominate a candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

At 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon the Democrats of Mason County will also meet at the court house for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend a convention to be held in Winchester on April 26th for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

Col. A. W. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling, is the only Democratic aspirant, and will have a walkover for the nomination.

While all is peace and harmony in the Democratic ranks, the opposing factions in the Republican party will likely make things warm for each other. Hon. John C. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, and Col. James Huff, of Cynthiana, are both working to secure the Mason County delegation, and the meeting to-morrow may develop into a very lively affair. Mr. Huff has opposition in his home county, in the person of a Mr. Conway, and the Woodites claim Mr. H. won't even carry Harrison.

REV. DR. E. H. PEARCE has been re-elected President of Kentucky Wesleyan College. The exhibit of the field work of the President and co-operation of friends of the college in its territory showed benefactions to amount of $22,082.

D. K. PEARSONS, of Hinsdale, Ill., Wednesday presented $50,000 to Berea College in Madison County, Ky., which is to be used as an endowment fund. Pearsons visited the college a year ago and manifested much interest in the work carried on. At that time it was announced to him that an endowment fund of $150,000 was being raised, to which Mr. Pearsons replied that he would present the college with an additional $50,000 when the first amount had been subscribed. A short time ago the $150,000 accumulated.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there is no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Spring Suits

FOR STYLISH WOMEN.

Three of the new Suits demand a word in the papers. They're important because they combine prettiness and style with great moderation of price—$8.50, $10, $12.50. The $8.50 Suits are of cheviot serge, black and colors. The fly front coat—short and jaunty—is lined with satin serge. The skirt has the right flare and is lined with percaline. The Suits at $10 are also of cheviot serge. The fly front coat has the cutest little gusset effects at the hips and a cash pocket with flaps. The coat is full silk lined. With it a seven gore circular skirt, percaline lined. The $12.50 Suits are of handsome colored and black cloth. Fly front coat and flare skirt with buttons and loops at back. Other colors, but the one before the writer is a pretty grayish blue.

CORSETS.—The new gown calls for a new Corset, and we are better prepared than ever to suit you. We sell many kinds of Corsets, all of one sort—the worthy sort. An experienced, thoroughly posted saleswoman is in charge of the department. Consult her; she will give you many useful suggestions. Corsets laced and adjusted to figure by an experienced assistant whenever purchase is made between 8 and 10 a. m.

ODDFELLOWS.

DeKalb Lodge Confers the Second and Third Degrees on a Large Class Last Night.

The unusual sight of a lively little four-legged animal emerging from the entrance to Oddfellows Hall was witnessed last night between 9 and 10 o'clock. Some belated pedestrians wondered whether the goat had escaped, while others would no doubt be willing to affirm that it was one of ex-Mayor Cox's handsome little mules. But if a mule, "whar" had that mule been, for mules as a rule are not in the habit of climbing long flights of stairs? One thing is certain, it was a frisky little animal.

DeKalb Lodge held a special meeting last night to confer the second and third degrees. Seven candidates received the second and nine the third. A large crowd was present to witness the work, among the number the following brethren from Lamartine Lodge of Ripley: Messrs. G. D. Williamson, W. W. Carr, F. Groppenbacker, A. J. Grim, L. A. Bodmer, R. L. Carey, Allen Linn and Marshal Dan Miller.

At the conclusion of the work, the visitors and members enjoyed a light luncheon consisting of sandwiches, coffee, cream and cakes, served at Traxel's.

ADULTERATION OF FOOD.

The Army Beef Scandal Has Had at Least One Good Effect—People's Eyes Opened.

[New York Medical Record.]

The scandals in connection with the canned beef supplied to the army during the late war have had at least one good effect—the eyes of the American people have been opened by their means of the adulteration-of-food question. Up to the present time, although it has been for long well known that adulteration of food is one of the tricks of the trade most frequently practiced, nevertheless the long-suffering public has endured the deception with exemplary patience—perhaps on the principal that "what the eye does not see the heart does not grieve for," or perhaps because the matter had never been brought very prominently into notice. Since, however, the secrets of some of the methods of food adulteration have been laid bare, it is likely that in the future more or less vigorous measures will be taken to ensure that persons really get the article for which they pay and that when they ask for butter or cheese the retailer does not foist on them an adulterated compound or spurious article.

An act dealing with the manufacture and sale of butter has recently been introduced in the New York Senate and will undoubtedly shortly become a law. Much of the matter contained in this act is old; the new part provides that any butter which is not fresh shall be labelled to that effect and that no preservative shall be used in butter or other dairy product.

It should be understood that when butter has become rancid and when the process has not gone far, it is possibly by rechurning it with milk or boiling it in water containing a little soda to get rid of the fatty acids which cause rancidity. This custom has been largely followed and it is with a view to stopping the practice, or rather to prevent butter so treated to be sold as fresh, that the new provisions of the act have been framed.

A PURE WATER SUPPLY.

Leading Cities Putting in Filtering Plants. A Matter of the Very First Importance.

[Courier Journal.]

Louisville, Cincinnati, Albany and Pittsburg are now engaged in the task of arranging for filtered water. The Louisville plant is well under way, but will require many months for completion. Still, we are a long way ahead of other cities, and the work is being pushed.

The value of a pure-water supply is a matter to which there has been an astonishing amount of indifference in other cities as well as in Philadelphia, and yet it is of the first importance. With the growing knowledge of sanitation it is a reflection upon municipal government that cities have moved so slowly in the establishment of filtering plants. To get pure water is of infinitely more value than to get a dividend from water works, though that would be desirable if it could be done without fixing the rates at an oppressive figure.

J. J. MOORE, of Boyle County, was awarded $15,000 damages against the Stanford Turnpike Company for alleged carelessness in causing the death of his daughter. The child was killed while attempting to pass the tollgate near Danville, while it was in charge of the soldiers a year ago. Moore sued for $30,000 and the road got a change of venue to Casey County. There the first trial gave Moore $17,000, but the Judge set the verdict aside on the grounds that it was excessive. The turnpike company will fight the case through all the courts.
